

NEW PAYROLL TAX 'JOKER' BARED! BAY STATE WORKERS PAY DOUBLE!

If You Doubt It, Don't Ask a Politician—Ask Your Paymaster

If you are a Massachusetts man or woman worker and earn less than $50 a week, your pay is going to be CUT TWICE on January 2.

The New Deal's so-called Social Security Act will force your employer to open your pay envelope, to take out one per cent of the money in it, and to turn the cash over to the government in Washington.

The State Unemployment Compensation Law will then compel your employer to open your pay envelope a second time, to take out ANOTHER one per cent and to give that money to the government on Beacon Hill.

This makes TWO NEW TAXES on your wages.

They are taxes YOU WILL HAVE TO PAY. You may go to your paymaster and tell him that you are entitled to all the money you have worked for; that you want what belongs to you. But your protests will do you no good.

The New Deal will have gone away with the New Deal's portion of your salary.

Massachusetts will have extracted her share. And both of them will have reached the pay envelope hours before it gets into your hands.

If you have any doubt about this double tax, ask your employer. If he also is in doubt, have him ask his lawyer. And you will learn that this is the law and you cannot avoid it.

If you are a clerk working in a department store anywhere in Massachusetts and receiving only $14 a week, you may think the Federal and State tax grabbers will leave your humble wage alone.

You are mistaken. They won't. In fact, they are ready to make you pay 28 cents a week all next year—a total of $14.56.

There is no relief for you in the future. Your burden will increase with the years.

From 1940 to 1942, when the Federal government makes you pay 21 cents a week, the State government will have its hand out for an additional slice of your pay.

If you are reconciled to paying 28 cents a week to Washington from 1943 to 1945, you must also reconcile yourself to sending another sum to the State House.

The same holds true for the year 1946, when the Social Security Act's tax on your $14 wage is boosted to 35 cents a week and when the State again takes its portion.

Even in 1949, the year the New Deal has listed you for contributions of 42 cents a week, you must be ready to give Massachusetts 21 cents more.

LYONS CLIES FOUND; JURY HEARS CASE

New evidence strengthening the theory that John A. Lyons, her admirer, was slain at the same time as Grace Asquith, was in possession of police today as the baffling details of the "Merry Widow" sack murder were laid before a grand jury.

There was a possibility that the alleged slayer of the Westwood ex-model would be named in a murder indictment before tonight.

All signs of the mystery brought to light by the finding of Mrs. Asquith's dismembered legs in the harbor Oct. 5, the slayer of a fight and dismemberment in her garage and the slayer's discovery in her head in the West Point Channel were being passed on the Norfolk.

WIRE RAPS WOMAN ON JAIL WALL

Trapped when her clothing became entangled on the barbed wire atop the wall of the Charles street jail, Miss Gertrude Jackson, 45, fought with jail guards for ten minutes today 35 feet above the ground in an unsuccessful attempt to gain her freedom.

The battle between the jail guards and the grey-haired woman suspended in mid air with only one arm free was witnessed by more than a score of pedestrians and by patients at the Massachusetts General Hospital.

As the woman clung to her right leg freedom the clasp of the woman's inmates could be heard from inside the jail yard.

The woman, serving a short sentence, had been assigned to the kitchen of the jail and in some manner made her way into the yard and up the steep brick wall, before jail guards there was discovered.

As she attempted to swing back over the wire entanglement her right shoulder caught and with her free arm she fought desperately to free herself before guards could seize a ladder and rescue her to the ground.

When guards did reach her she began to kick and, when in an unsuccessful attempt to climb into the yard and up the steep brick wall, before jail guards there was discovered.

Northfield, Oct. 30— Disappearance of 14-year-old Phyllis Manning today caused a posse to make a woods search and police to seek a youth with whom she recently quarreled.

A theory of foul play directed both activities.

Phyllis, a Greenfield high school student and granddaughter of Greenfield Police Chief Thomas J. Manning, vanished Tuesday night after playing swimming club at Northfield Seminary.

Her disappearance resulted in the discovery of the recent vanishing of another girl, suspected at the seminary. These discoveries, coupled with the mystery drowning of a girl in the seminary pool two months ago and the alleged murder of Dr. Elmer Spear on the adjoining Mt. Vernon railroad ramp in 1935, left residents of this section extremely uneasy.

Another Girl Gone

The other missing girl is Ruth McGowan, 17, who worked as a waitress at the seminary and whose father, George McGowan, is an engineer there. She disappeared last August 17.

Mary Harwood, 17, of Northfield, was the girl drowned two months ago.

By KENNETH T. DOWNS

Aboard Landon Sunflower Special, Oct. 30 (NS)—Supremely confident he will be elected president next Tuesday, with New York state leading the challenges at President Roosevelt to announce his position on nine major issues before America goes to the polls.

With a blistering attack on the New Deal, the Republican nominee challenged Mr. Roosevelt before a tumultuous audience in New York City's Madison Square Garden where the President speaks a tomorrow night.

Landon linked the issue as the AAA, the NEA, re-employment, cutting of private and government outposts, restoration of business confidence, purging relief of politics, spreading small security taxes, ending federal waste and extravagance and maintenance of the American form of constitutional government.

KING Lauds U. S. PACT

OPENS FIRST PARLIAMENT

London, Oct. 30 (INS)—References to his "concern and anxiety" over the civil war in Spain, and his pleasure over the Anglo-Franco-American currency agreement today marked King Edward's first message to parliament.

Amid colorful ancient ceremonies, the speech was read for him before a joint meeting of the House of Lords and Commons in the upper house as he prorogued Parliament.

The speech, one of the longest in messages in recent years, dealt mainly with domestic problems, but showed the king's keen interest in world affairs.

It opened with a touching reference to his late father, George V, and appreciation of the world's sympathy for "myself and my dear mother."

"I have viewed with concern and anxiety the events in Spain during the last three months," King Edward said, as he called attention to British efforts to "mitigate the suffering of the Spanish people."

Regarding the League of Nations, the king said: "My government remains firmly attached to the principles of the covenant," and he briefly touched on negotiations for a new League treaty of security.

"He rejoiced," he said, at the continued improvement in British trade and employment.

The ceremony of prorogation was a prelude to the state opening of the new Parliament—with change in membership—next Tuesday, when King Edward will read the first "speech from the throne" of his reign.

Miss Florence Horsburgh will be the first woman to reply to the king's speech from the throne in the formal discourse that follows the address.

BRENNAN Funeral MONDAY

EDITOR DIES AT 35

Funeral services for John F. Brennan of the Boston Evening American and Sunday Advertiser staff will be held Monday with solemn high mass of requiem at the immaculate Conception Church, Alwite Brook Parkway, North Cambridge.

Only 35 years of age, he died at his home in Varnum street, Arlington, yesterday afternoon after waging a valiant but losing fight for two years against illness.

In his services with the American and Advertiser, he had distinguished himself by his ability in a multitude of varying duties, all of which he handled with the same enthusiasm and attention to detail that marked him for recognition from the first.

He began working for the Boston Evening American shortly after graduation from Boston College High School in 1910 and continued his work during the years he attended Boston College.

He was graduated from the latter institution in 1914, with a Bachelor of Arts degree.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Margaret Haley Brennan, three children, John, Jr., 9, Margery, 5, and Katherine, 2, his mother, Mrs. Margaret Brennan, of Chelsea, three brothers, Lawrence, William and James, and one sister, Miss Anna Brennan.

In addition to his newspaper duties he served for ten years as a member of the board of officers in Chelsea, his native city.

TAYLOR Visits Home TOWN

BANDS GREET FILM ACTOR

Beatrice, Neb., Oct. 30 (AP)—The old home town "is just like it used to be," says Robert Taylor, who left here three years ago for Pomona College, Hollywood and fame.

The screen star—better known here as Spangler Arlington Brugh, the name given him by his parents—came home for a vacation, his first visit since he skyrocketed to stardom.

Thousands turned out with bands and banners to welcome the actor. Taylor was thrilled.

"New York was nothing like this," he said. "I never spent a more enjoyable day in my life."

Taylor made two appearances at a theater, addressed a high school group, entertained 25 old classmates, and attended a dance in his honor.

At the theater he laughed and pointed to the orchestra pit.

"I used to play cello down there," he said. "I sang on this very stage, too."

The high school crowd gave him a rousing ovation. Taylor remembered that when he was a freshman he was called upon to introduce a speaker to dedicate the new high school building.

"I rehearsed a long time," he said, grinning, "but when the time came, my knees shook and I didn't know what to say. That's the way I feel now."

Mollison Sets New Mark In Ocean Hop to London

hailing an ocean hopped and performing aerial gymnastics to get out of his own wings.

He kept up his wild speed to the last second, swinging over the water, and landing on the shore.

He landed out of the cockpit hardly a foot from the shore, and he was already in the water.

"I wasted an hour out there, circling around in a warmer stratum of air, trying to melt my fatness off my wings," he said.

For the actual water crossing, Mollison easily beat his previous record, averaging 100 miles an hour.

The fastest of the summer campaign is Amelia Earhart's 15-hour flight from Boston to New York in 1924.

The world's 15th fastest flight by Harry Gurnea and Dick Merrill from New York to Wales, recorded 100 miles an hour, took 10 hours, 15 minutes.

Mollison landed safely on the bank of the Amsterdam canal upon plane landing as he weakly answered the questions of curious officials.

When the crowd shouted "Fly!" the plane, he, staggered around to the front of the plane and the photographer.

"I'm too tired to say much now," he puffed.

"It was very cold. Soon after we left Harbor Grace we ran into a snowstorm. About 200 miles out the formation began to get dangerous, so I circled around many times to get rid of it. That was a tough period."

"Most of the time I flew at an altitude of around 10,000 feet."

The question followed again, fully. "I didn't visit Ireland. The first I saw was Wales, and then I was able to get my bearings."

When asked what he made the trip from Newfoundland to New York for, he said: "I'm just here to see the world."

"I'm so tired now that all I want is a Scotch and soda and a rest," he said.

"I'm going to start off for Cape Town as soon as possible—but I hope to get a night in London first."

400 Reds Attack 200 Paris Fascists

Paris, Oct. 30 (INS)—Twenty persons were injured today when 400 Communists, using blowpipes and axes, attacked 200 members of the Paris "Crown of Iron" organization, meeting in a garage at a Paris suburb.

The war for four weeks—last night across the Atlantic. The flow of the battle was from New York to London.

Launched off the 15th in his time, Mollison, passed a white flag which he said, a girl in Harbor Grace gave him, as this young girl looked over and said:

"And I give you this." It was a kiss.

Dorothy Ward, actress for whom Mollison's plane was named, said: "I'm terribly happy. It makes me feel that I, in a small way, have helped his success. I am a very dear friend of mine. I'm proud and honored to know he has won through."

Forced to hitchhike home from Oxford, Vermont, after missing his train to get to Boston, the son of Prof. George L. Hunt of Harvard University, is now on his way home.

RELIEF WASTE DENOUNCED BY LUCE

Taking over of direct relief by the federal government, with an experienced bureaucracy, badly thrown together, was condemned as "fool" in an address delivered by former Congressman Luce of Washington.

"Federal control of direct relief, instead of entrusting it to the states and local agencies, has resulted in terrible waste, and the same thing has been true of the indirect methods of helping the unemployed," he said.

"There is not one of you who does not know of some instances. Some have been ridiculous, some have been pathetic, some have been pitiful, all have been provoking to the man who has been trying his best to make both ends meet and who knows that part of his own earnings must go to pay the bill and who realizes that where the cost is now met by the issue of government bonds, his children and his grandchildren will have to pay."

TAINTED SYSTEM

"Most provoking still is the knowledge that the waste has in no small part been due to the inefficiency of a system inflated by politics, a system also often resulting in gross unfairness to those who have needed help."

"The cost of federal government for the average man is nine times greater than it was 20 years ago. His wealth only increased about six-fold. The regular expenses of government are increasing at all times for emergency purposes, have increased since a quarter under this administration, although it was pledged to reduce them by a quarter."

"The New Deal has been the

What Landon Stands For: Religious Freedom

GOVERNOR LANDON is an uncompromising defender of the inalienable right of every citizen to be secure against discrimination because of his race or his religion.

A man of unusual calm and restraint in any controversy, he is steeled to stand by any suggestion that prejudices of class or creed shall ever divide the people of America.

Intolerance is the one issue he cannot discuss calmly. In a recent interview with Edward Cora, former Commissioner of Immigration, Mr. Landon expressed this forceful view:

"If ever in this country there should be an attempt to persecute any minority because of race or religion, you will find me fighting on the side of the minority."

Governor Landon has spent his life in a section of America where the immigrants of many lands are fused into the wholesome community life of the nation.

He has seen men and women of foreign descent, and their children, develop the highest type of American citizenship. He honors these people, not as strangers or even as guests, but as citizens who have earned the right to be AND ARE AMERICANS.

Bigotry and intolerance are wholly alien to the spirit of Americanism which Governor Landon stands for now and has always stood for in his dealings with his fellow countrymen.

world's most expensive experiment in government control since government began. You pay the bill."

If the statisticians are correct, he said, taxes are now taking about 20 per cent of the average man's income of the United States.

He showed where even persons on relief pay part of the alien tax of $200 levied by the government.

"They can't pay a loaf of bread or a pair of shoes or anything else without contributing to the public income," he continued.

Costume Party By Legion Post

A costume party sponsored by the auxiliary of the William L. Harris American Legion Post will be held at Bay-side, Gloucester, December 1, 1936.

Several prizes will be given to those wearing the most original and amusing costumes in dancing with the spirit of the holiday.

FOUR COLLEGE PAID TAX AS 'SOLD BRICK' SOLD LABOR

From profits of industry, instead of from the pay-rolls of the workmen, should come the financing of the New Deal social security act, former Governor Joseph B. Ely declared in an address.

"The 2 per cent paid on the workmen's pay, which was the basis of the Social Security Act, is a tax on the pay-rolls of the workmen," he said.

He advocated the attempt of the administration for imposing this "sold brick" upon the American worker, and specifically named President Roosevelt on his silence in this vital matter in his campaign for reelection.

"Talking upon taxation about the subject in a town meeting, the great Democratic tax problem of the New Deal, Mr. Ely said, 'I have offered not a single word of criticism of the American workmen to the fact that his administration was going to tax the pay-rolls of the workmen, not a word,' the former governor said, in part."

LABOR WILL PAY

"He could have made it entirely unnecessary, for the employer to do that which the law compels him to do."

"Who should Mr. Roosevelt do?"

"Not the workmen of this country, entitled to know that the money is going to be taken from their pay envelopes," I should think they were entitled to know."

"If I were the Chief Executive of this nation, I should feel my responsibility, when I was discussing the matter of taxation next night, to make some reference to this tax taken from the working people of this country."

"Who has he avoided?"

"I want to ask you this: Do you think that was fair? Was that the fair thing to do, to leave that entire out of the discussion?"

"Now who haven't they told us about these taxes before? Because they knew they were politically dangerous—that what the New Deal has done is to impose this 'sold brick' on the American workman."

"It is nothing more than a compulsory seizure. The cost of it out of labor, piled over with these words, 'social security'—I would like to see some of it paid."

"I don't care so much about political security; but I would like social security. I think such a program should be financed out of the profits of industry."

"I am not one of those men and I have for years."

"It is out of the profits of industry that this money should be collected in the form of insurance."

PEOPLE WAKING UP

The speaker declared that in addition to placing this tax on the workers, the government is going to civil index him and that he will be "just a number after January 1, 1937, I suppose that means 'Communist' and 'socialist'."

"I hope you get the number of the New Dealers before they get your number? I have been trying from which to launch the Governor as the stellar attraction.

Only a day or so ago the Governor himself declared at the Washington Hotel forum that the Garden was the only place in Boston big enough to hold a Curry race and that the master of ceremonies should be Theodore G. Ladd, local money magnate.

Based on the basis of this pronouncement came the report that James Roosevelt, the President's eldest son, would be the Sunday night headliner.

CARDS ARE OUT

Now invitation cards are being distributed for a "debate" to be held in the Garden Sunday night.

The road.

"About dinner to joint debate—Gov. James M. Curley vs. Henry Cabot Lodge—Boston Garden Sunday Evening, November 1, 1936."

Aside from the confirmation received in Democratic circles at this time, however, on the part of the Governor's following, the fact that a joint debate was on the cards between Curley and Lodge caused surprise in political circles.

In fact the answer had been so well kept that even the Governor's Republican opponent, who had his first inkling of the proposed debate in which he was supposed to take part only when the first invitation cards started to circulate in the streets.

Parents of Lodge branded the matter as "a farce" and declared that the Republican candidate should avoid such a diversion from his primary conduct of his campaign.

The debate, however, will serve as an excuse to "pack" the hall for the purpose and will have other personalities from James Roosevelt down.

As such a deal nearer to election day passes, the historical animosity between the two men is expected to be at its height.

Clear friends of the candidates are expected to hold the house next Sunday night at the Garden by holding a lot of people out of the door.

The time for such an endeavor, they emphasize, was when the President faced the big crowd in Boston Common. The President, they further pointed out, did not give the opportunity to speak to the Governor (Gen. Chamberlain, Brooklyn, N. Y., and Nebraska, and to solicit the Com-

Today's Boondoggle

Figures just released by the United States Census Bureau reveal that the total retail sales in the State of Nevada amounted to $127,900,000 last year.

Reports of other governmental agencies show, however, that in the last three and one-half years the Roosevelt administration has given the State of Nevada $27,740,000 for relief of one kind or another.

"That means, in effect, that in the last three and one-half years the Federal Treasury has given Nevada enough money to pay for all the food, clothing, radio, automobile, jewelry and everything else that the people of Nevada have bought in any one year during the last three years."

That is right.

Lest We Forget:

Madame Perkins 'Ace Failure'

By HAROLD LORD VARNY
Madame Frances Perkins is probably the greatest failure of the Roosevelt administration. She was hailed in 1933 by the whole "liberal" clique as the one member of the Roosevelt menage who was most likely to go down in history.

Today, it is regarded as a serious question, by those in the know at Washington, whether Madame Perkins will even be re-appointed to the cabinet if Franklin D. Roosevelt weather the storms this November. The recent discussion of Mayor La Guardia's name in connection with the secretaryship of labor was ominous of coming changes.

Her eclipse is a spectacular demonstration of the failure of the Fabian Socialist idea, which was greeted by a practical and realistic situation. It is reminiscent of the similar striking failure of Sidney Webb, high priest of the Fabianism when he was elevated to a post in Stanley MacDonald's first ministry in Great Britain. All of her life, before coming to Washington, Madame Perkins had been able to shield her ineffectuality behind an imposing facade of statistics. In Albany, Roosevelt's gubernatorial term, she had helped into national fame her housing manual which upon Secretary Donahoe's optimistic unemployment estimates.

A. F. of L. Fought

Even then, Mr. Roosevelt had an extremely difficult time killing her into the labor lobby. American Federation of Labor leaders who had worked long and hard to elect Mr. Roosevelt were against the thought that the new Secretary of Labor would be a woman.

Pro-Alien Sentiment

The policy of Madame Perkins has brought her into most frequent controversy with the alien public since the beginning of her secretarialship. Her pro-alien administration of the immigration laws.

She has made strenuous, but ineffectual efforts, at each session of Congress to secure the enactment of laws giving her discretionary, instead of mandatory powers in deporting alien criminals, including Communists and Anarchists. She has used the excuse that the production of the necessary evidence is being conducted by one of her former subordinates in the department, Miss Grace Abbott.

Battled Unionism

She even fought for weeks against the slight economies in trade unionism involved in the appointment of Edward F. McGuire as assistant secretary and yielded only when the flurry of strikes in the summer of 1935 had reduced her brain trusters to nervous prostration.

Since Mr. McGuire took over, he has become, in fact if not in name, the actual secretary to the trade unionists. Few of them bother any longer to wait their turn to submit to an audience with Madame Perkins.

There was a time, in the early weeks of her secretarialship, when Madame Perkins gave evidence of a disposition to become a representative class struggle mediator.

In the heyday of the NIRA, she suddenly inspired herself into the negotiations over the steel code. She journeyed to Pittsburgh and in a 24-hour clock's tour of the steel towns, she bowed up eagerly on her steel labor subject. When she appeared at the steel code hearings, her fury against the manufacturers was so excessive that the Fabian NATION appeared the next week with the report that she had "ripped" the manufacturers "to pieces."

Later, it transpired that her ardor on this occasion had been induced by Professor William F. Larrison, then her favorite "punk." When Professor Larrison ceased to be the No. 1 social planner in the Department of Labor, her concern for the steel workers subsided.

CARNEGIE HEAD PLEDGES VOTE TO LONDON

Special to the Boston Evening American

Pittsburgh, Oct. 29.—Samuel Haden Church, president of Carnegie Institute, who organized the Liberty party that gave more than a third of a million votes to Roosevelt in 1932, announced today that he and his associates would support Governor Alfred M. Linden for President.

Church declared that recently he had visited the White House at the President's invitation and had explained why he could no longer follow the Roosevelt leadership. Church said:

"As a life-long Republican I voted for Mr. Roosevelt in 1932, but now, to use the President's own language, I cross my heart and hope to die if I vote for him this time."

DANGEROUS EXPERIMENTS
"Mr. Roosevelt's dangerous experiments with taxation and finance have imperilled the chances for education of every boy and girl in America by chocking the banks with inflated bonds and cheapening investments to such an extent that their decreased income has compelled every institution of culture and learning in the land to cut its budget and restrict its operations."

"His false theory that money is wealth and that by taxing the rainy-day reserves of corporations out of existence he can circulate this money in crazy bond-dogging schemes, has destroyed the hope of labor for employment in times of depression and tried up the fountain of benevolence upon which the welfare of society, the spread of education and the protection of the underprivileged must always rest."

"The accumulated cash reserves of corporations, while current income was constantly running in red ink, have kept the factory gates open to millions of employees through these seven years of adversity."

CLASS HATRED
"Nor can we overlook Mr. Roosevelt's implacable purpose to stir up class hatred among the American people. The unemployed millions of the early days of this depression have been held to him throughout his administration in material numbers in a frame work of misery, when a better system of work, more through the facilities of our existing business institutions, without competition from the government, would long ago have helped in ice and absorbed them all."

"But the greatest menace that confronts the American people today is found in Mr. Roosevelt's political statement to Congress that in the past three years he has received new instruments of power which may be safely used by him, but in the present emergency would curtail the liberties of the people."

"All tyrannies, all usurpations, all dictatorships begin in soothing phrases like that."

DEAL PAYROLL GRAB LASHED BY EVERYBODY ALIKE

MASS. DOUBLE PAY TAX 'JOKER' BARED

IF, during these years, you have the good fortune to receive a larger salary, your pay envelope taxes will go up proportionately.

Both the New Deal and the Bay State are well prepared to take their share of whatever raises you get.

For example, if your $14 wage is increased to $30 a week, the Social Security Act will levy the following taxes on it:

30 cents a week or $15.60 a year in 1937-1939
45 cents a week or $23.40 a year in 1940-1942
60 cents a week or $31.20 a year in 1943-1945
75 cents a week or $39.00 a year in 1946-1948
90 cents a week or $46.80 a year in 1949 and thereafter.

And the State's Unemployment Compensation Act, denoting identical amounts, will oblige you to pay much more than you thought you were going to pay.

Instead of paying 10 cents a week for unemployment insurance, you will actually be paying 40 cents of $4.20 a week.

If you have this 40-cent a week levy added to the Social Security tax of 45 cents a week, you will be paying 85 cents a week.

On a $14 wage, that makes a total of $11.90 a week, or $61.80 a year. That is the real cost of the New Deal's Social Security Act and the Bay State's Unemployment Compensation Act.

But that is not all. The Federal Reserve Bank of Boston has just announced that it will raise the rate of discount from 3 to 4 percent.

That means that the cost of borrowing money will be increased by one percent. That means that the cost of doing business will be increased by one percent.

That means that the cost of living will be increased by one percent. That means that the cost of the New Deal's Social Security Act and the Bay State's Unemployment Compensation Act will be increased by one percent.

'Payroll Tax Cruel Hoax,'—Landon

Respecting the New Deal's Social Security Act, Governor Landon had this to say:

"This (social security) law is unjust, unworkable, stupidly drafted and wastefully financed. . . The savings it forces on our workers is a cruel hoax. . . With this social security money running into billions of dollars, all restraint on Congress will be off. . . To get a workable old age pension law, we must repeal the present compulsory insurance law. The Republican party is pledged to do this."

No every cent of the money that is invested in its own pension fund must go to the workers. . . .

A like situation exists in the United States Marine Corps, where the vice-president, Charles C. H. . . .

"It is doubtful—in fact, we are still considering the problem—that we shall be able to continue our own system of aiding our employees."

"We have helped workers who are sick, or who have grown too old for active service. And we have assumed the whole burden, asking nothing from employee."

"But with the Federal Social Security Act going into effect January 1, and diverting the money from the corporation as well as from our employees, it is improbable that we can afford to continue our excellent private system of aid."

'Soaking the Poor':

Payroll Tax Hoax, Steiwer Declares

By CHARLES N. WHEELER
Special to Boston Evening American

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Declaring that the so-called Federal Security Act is "the cruellest hoax ever perpetrated on the American working man and working woman," Senator Frederick Steiwer of Oregon, Republican convention keynoter, today labeled it "soaking the poor."

Steiwer declared that the Social Security Act is a "hoax" because it forces workers to pay taxes for a pension plan that will not be paid out until they are 65 years old. He said that the law is "soaking the poor" because it takes money from the pockets of the working class and gives it to the wealthy.

Steiwer said that the law is "soaking the poor" because it takes money from the pockets of the working class and gives it to the wealthy. He said that the law is "soaking the poor" because it takes money from the pockets of the working class and gives it to the wealthy.

WHAT THE COMING ELECTION MEANS TO YOUNG VOTERS

For its own sake youth must take an inventory of realities before it takes a chance on pipe dreams. These words, from a recent speech by Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, should be given serious attention by each young man and woman of the country. For it is the younger voter who stands to lose the most or gain the most as a result of the election in November.

The younger voter holds a critical position because this year the election is more than a choice between two different forms of government. It will largely determine the kind of government under which the men and women of tomorrow will spend most of their lives, rear their children, and carry on their daily work. It is therefore imperative that a young man or woman of the future voters, before the end of the last four years calmly and wisely choose with the greatest of care.

The younger voter should take an inventory of EXTRAVAGANCE. The New Deal's reckless spending has raised the total of the national debt to thirty-four billions of dollars, most of which is piled on the shoulders of future generations. Youth had no part in creating this debt, nor did it receive benefit from it. Nevertheless the younger voters will have to pay it.

The younger voter should take an inventory of OPPORTUNITY. The New Deal has persistently attempted to strangle private enterprise, and thus has deprived youth of the opportunity of taking its rightful place in the nation's business and industry. Young men are not satisfied to remain permanently in a CCC camp. They want jobs with opportunities—something the New Deal administration has actually prevented by its attacks on industry.

MADRID REDS DRIVE REBELS BACK: 40 TANKS IN PUSH

Madrid, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The Spanish government forces today drove the rebel army back from the city of Madrid, after a three-day battle. The rebels had entered the city on Oct. 17, but were driven out by government troops. The fighting was the most intense since the outbreak of the civil war.

Spending FAILS TO AID Recovery

By HUGH E. BRADSHAW

Federal emergency expenditures, at virtually record pace time levels, not only have failed to speed recovery, but are imperiling the whole American system.

The government's policy of spending money at a record pace, it is now clear, has failed to bring about a recovery in the American economy. The government's policy of spending money at a record pace, it is now clear, has failed to bring about a recovery in the American economy. Notwithstanding the fact that the government is spending money at a record pace, it is now clear, has failed to bring about a recovery in the American economy. The government's policy of spending money at a record pace, it is now clear, has failed to bring about a recovery in the American economy.

ON HIS RECORD ELECT

STATE TREASURER

CHARLES F. HURLEY GOVERNOR

HIS PLATFORM OF PLEDGES:

- 1—I pledge that the office of Governor shall be administered by me with the reserve and dignity befitting that high office.
- 2—I pledge to the people of the Commonwealth an honest, efficient and businesslike administration of the affairs of State.
- 3—I pledge myself to conduct the business of the Commonwealth with the same degree of care, economy and efficiency with which I have conducted the office of Treasurer and Receiver-General during the past six years.
- 4—I further pledge that I shall surround myself in the administration of my office with men and women of unassailable honesty, integrity and ability and will call to the public service those whom I believe best qualified by training and experience to fill a particular position.
- 5—I order my administration the high standing enjoyed throughout the nation by the Courts of Massachusetts will be preserved. To maintain this high standard, I shall appoint to the high and honorable position of judge of the various courts, men of character who are well qualified by legal training and experience to measure up to the high standard of judicial service which is traditional in this Commonwealth.
- 6—I shall strive to insure that the vast spending of public funds by all of our State agencies shall be so handled as to prevent any waste and extravagance.
- 7—I pledge that it will be the purpose of my administration as your Governor to stimulate industrial activity and commercial enterprise throughout the Commonwealth, and promote a more harmonious relationship between employer and employee.
- 8—it is elementary that in the proper management of the affairs of the State industry already in existence must be fostered and developed; and new industry must be induced to locate within our border so as to provide additional employment for our citizens.
- 9—The beneficent provisions of our State Minimum Wage Law have unquestionably been affected by the recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in which a majority of that Court declared a similar law adopted by a sister state to be unconstitutional. A legal suit must be found to restore the benefits of the former legislation. In the solution of this important problem, Massachusetts should lead the way. Its constitution and solution will be one of the first concerns of my administration. If an amendment to the Federal Constitution be necessary to insure the legal status of this important legislation, then I favor such a constitutional amendment.
- 10—I pledge my administration to the relief of those unfortunate victims of the recent devastating floods, which devastated the property of our citizens, and to aid in the rehabilitation of homes and the restoration of business in the stricken areas.
- 11—The care and consideration of those of our citizens who are still suffering from the results of the economic disturbances of the past few years will be a subject of serious and constant consideration on my part to the end that no man, woman or child shall be permitted to go hungry or homeless.
- 12—Necessaries relief to our less fortunate citizens can and must be accomplished without any undue burden being placed upon the taxpayers of the Commonwealth. As a candidate for Governor, I stand upon my public record and invite a wholesome and impartial examination of that record by the people of Massachusetts. I agree to stand or fall on the appraisal of the people placed upon it.
- 13—I shall insist on the strict enforcement of the Civil Service Law of Massachusetts.
- 14—I order my administration all contracts involving the spending of the public's money will be let only after extensive advertising and unhampered competitive bidding, the contracts being awarded to the lowest responsible bidder.

Dashing Crusaders Leave Hospital Temple Bound

BILL OSMAN, great Holy Cross sophomore fullback, is shown above at the hospital where he has been confined all week with a bad arm. His rival and pal, Hilary Renz, another soph fullback, who was also confined with ulcers and a bad ankle, comes home. Both left this morning for Philadelphia as a small thing like injuries could never detain this power-house duo with a big game at stake.

Preparing for ALL-AMERICAS 'Fight Prosperity Around Corner'

Joe Gelinas of Athol gave Joe Ricciotti of the North End eight pounds and a severe trouncing at the Arena last night, in what amounted to strict privacy.

A crowd of only 1137 customers slipped in to witness the proceedings, paying a not amount of only $522 to the club.

Boxing is on the wane, no doubt, but prosperity was also around the corner, and it is doubt if the directors of the organization will take many more from the back of the head as they suffered last night.

For the third week in succession, the bouts were poppy affairs that had the audience during their hours from early in the evening until late into the night.

Trish Johny Smith of Quincy was most promising of the preliminary brigade. He battered Ralph Salvo, a tough customer from Salem, with such ferocity that Salvo's records stopped the bout at the end of the third round.

Edna Rossi of Everett, former English amateur champion in the 147 and 161 pound classes, fought last night as a light heavyweight and outboxed him. Coney of Cambridge is in trouble. It was a tough, two-fisted fight all the way, but Coney's corner, pushing in the 10th round, called him to the ring.

Mike Kaplan, Rochester fighter, outboxed Patrick Ryan of the 147 and 161 pound classes, and in the opening bout, Dominick, Coney of Cambridge, was overthrown by a technical knockout in the 10th round.
